INDUSTRIES
AND LABOUR
IN ALBERTA

The Department of Industries and Labour carries many varied responsibilities. It takes an essential part in the development of industry throughout Alberta and in creating improved conditions affecting the whole economy of the Province.

One of the chief duties of the Department is the maintenance of harmonious relations between labour and management. A special branch—the Board of Industrial Relations —administers the Alberta Labour Act, which in itself has gained wide recognition as outstanding legislation of its kind.

By its provisions, the Board of Industrial Relations has jurisdiction over such matters as minimum wages, hours of work, holiday and overtime pay, as well as general conditions affecting the welfare of the worker. The Act applies to all employers and employees in the province except farm labour and domestic servants.

Full collective bargaining rights are guaranteed under the Act and the procedure for settling disputes through negotiation, conciliation and arbitration is carefully outlined.

Alberta's record is singularly free from strike action. There have been relatively few major disputes. The department gives careful consideration to the problems of both labour and management.

In Alberta, with its marked industrial expansion, an adequate supply of skilled labour is essential. The training of young men and women for designated trades is the responsibility of the Apprenticeship Board and is a joint undertaking of the Provincial and Federal Governments.
In relation to population, more apprentices are being trained in Alberta than in any other Canadian Province.

The Co-operative Activities Branch of the department supervises all types of co-operatives in Alberta. These include rural electrification associations, producer co-operatives, livestock feeder associations and credit unions.

Special reference should be made to the Rural Electrification Associations through which farmers build power lines and electrify their farms. Assisted by the Co-operative Activities Branch, these associations have scored a remarkable record, with between five and six thousand additional farms being electrified each year. Total number is now well over 23,000 . . . an increase of some 14,000 since 1949.

A revolving fund of $10,000,000 has been made available by the Alberta Government, from which Rural Electrification Associations may borrow as much as 85 per cent of the money needed to finance the building of their lines.

The Alberta Power Commission, charged with the general supervision and encouragement of all matters relating to electric power in the province, functions as a branch of the Department of Industries and Labour.
The Provincial Marketing Board, another branch, is empowered to provide producers, manufacturers, distributors and consumers with the means of buying and selling goods at fair and equitable prices. Its policy of buying raw materials in mass quantities may be applied where necessary, and is of great benefit to the small Alberta manufacturer.

Three special inspection services, designed to protect life and property, are conducted by other branches of the department.
These are inspections of boilers and pressure vessels by the Boilers Branch, installation and appliances by the Electrical Protection Branch (and under the provisions of the Factories Act) grain elevators, freight and passenger elevators, and oil drilling rigs. The Factories Act also covers such matters as sanitary regulations and fire prevention.

Another division of the Department of Industries and Labour is the Bureau of Statistics. The function of the bureau is to collect and compile statistics of value not only to the various departments of government but to the public in general.

This is THE MARK OF A NEW AGE!

That big, bold Sweep-Sight Windshield—curving back to vertical corner posts—is easy-to-see evidence that Chevrolet has cast aside the tradition of the past to start a whole new age of low-cost motoring. It's smarter to look at—safer to look out of—and it's only part of Chevrolet's new outlook for '55!

Yes, Chevrolet brings you a whole new outlook in low-cost motoring for 1955! It's best symbolized, we think, by the sweeping expanse of windshield that widens your view of the road and lets you "see through" the corners for greater safety.

The car with the new idea! Besides widening your view of the road, the Motoramic Chevrolet broadens the whole horizon of the low-priced car. It was built around the idea that a car doesn't have to be high-priced to look, ride and perform like it. A lot of time and sweat went into the building. A lot of old traditions went out the window because they didn't measure up to this daring new concept. Trust Chevrolet to have the resources and the skill—yes, and the courage—to break so completely with the past.

Everything's new in Chevrolet! Everything—from its tubeless tires to its lower top. There's new beauty with that long, low "let's go" look! New fun underfoot with the new "Turbo-Fire" V8 and the new "Blue-Flame" six! A new choice of drives—new Overdrive, Super-Smooth Powerglide (extra-cost options), and new standard transmission! A wonderful new ride! New High-Level ventilation! But we can't even begin to give you the whole story here.

Look who's stealing whose thunder!

Chevrolet's stealing the thunder from the high-priced cars in more ways than one! Come in, drive it, and you'll see why the Motoramic Chevrolet starts a new and exciting age of low-cost motoring. This you're going to love!

Correspondence was read from the Salvation Army, Mrs. Loyce, former constituency secretary, Miss McCutcheon, district home economist, and Mrs. Jackson, district handicraft convenor.

A motion was passed to the effect that flowers be sent to the hospital, only to this year's paid-up members. Flowers will not be sent to members who have missed three consecutive meetings.

Mrs. Zaluzny has volunteered to be the convenor for the canvassing committee. Members of the WI wishing to serve as canvassers may give their names to Mrs. Zaluzny.

CHAMBERS OF COMMERCE TO MEET IN RED DEER JUNE 7-8 NEXT

The annual meeting of the Alberta Associated Chambers of Commerce and Agriculture is to be held in Red Deer on Tuesday and Wednesday, June 7 and 8 this year, it was decided by the Board of Directors of the Association at their January meeting. One question to be referred to the annual meeting is the location of the joint office of the Association and the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, which has been in Red Deer for the past two years.

Regional Chamber of Commerce workshop conferences for this year probably will be held in the Peace River country, at Lloydminster, at Coronation and at least two points in the central and southern parts of the province, it was decided. Arrangements for these conferences are under way.

Appointments to the following committees of the Association were discussed by the board: Agriculture, Crop Insurance, Education, Highways and Safety, Labor Management Relations and Policy. A special committee on taxation problems also was established.

The Alberta Jaycees have been invited to appoint a representative to the Board of Directors of the Association according to an earlier decision of the board and it was decided to investigate the practicability of instituting annual awards for the most effective community Board of Trade and Chamber of Commerce program in Alberta.

Members of the board attending the meeting included: President Clark Colwell of High River; past-president G. D. O'Brien, Vegreville; director G. Golberg, Winterburn; the executive secretary, D. S. Griffin. From the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce, D. Y. Yorath, pres-elect; W. H. Sprague, vice-president; R. L. Roper, T. V. Berto and D. F. Marlett, executive secretary.

Youth On Murder Charge

EDMONTON (BUP) — A 16-year-old Edmonton boy will stand trial on charges of attempted murder and shooting with intent to murder.

Charles William Smail was committed for supreme court trial as a result of an incident, Dec. 7 last.

He is accused of shooting a 25-year-old Hungarian immigrant girl, Anna Ferwagner, who was employed as a domestic in an Edmonton home. He is also accused of shooting at her employer, Mrs. Charles E. Garnett.

The girl was seriously wounded.

Farm Electricity Increases

The Hon. A. G. McBratney, Minister of Industries and Labour, announced recently that 6,323 farms were electrified in 1954. This compares to 6,126 electrified in 1953.

There are now 30,504 electrified farms in Alberta and with the addition of non-farm and hamlet customers served off rural lines, the total number of customers is 35,139.

It is expected that his pace will continue during 1955 since the Alberta Power Commission reports that there are 2,073 more farmers organized into associations and requesting service. More are expected to organize during the year.

readily measurable by the provincial analyst and sufficient to warrant conviction. It said a clause setting a specific minimum quantity was deleted from the Narcotics Act in 1929.

In passing sentence, Justice McBride said: "I have read the appeal court judgment and I remain unconvinced." However, he said, it was his duty to pass sentence.

He noted that Quigley had been arrested for breaking and entering only a month after he was acquitted on the narcotics charge last June. He said the man had apparently not learned his lesson.

"If it were not for your record, I would be inclined to impose the minimum sentence, since what you possessed you could not see, smell, taste or feel, and could not be used with any effect by an addict."

Jail Term For Once Acquitted Man

EDMONTON (BUP) — An Alberta Supreme Court justice sentenced a man to one year in jail on a drug charge Jan. 24 although he was not convinced the man should have been convicted.

Justice Boyd McBride sentenced 24-year-old Robert J. Quigley for illegal possession of drugs; Quigley was first charged with the offense after he was arrested in a Jasper Place hotel Jan. 22, 1954.

After he was tried last June, Justice McBride acquitted Quigley on the grounds that minute quantities of drugs found on his handkerchief and in his car were not enough to warrant conviction.

However, the ruling was reversed by Alberta Chief Justice G. B. O'Connor, who ordered Quigley rearrested and brought before McBride for sentence.

The appeal court ruling said that the quantity of drugs found was

CFA URGES MINIMUM PRICES ON BASIC COMMODITIES

EDMONTON (BUP) — The directors of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture say that there should be price supports for nine basic commodities at all times. The directors made the statement after a meeting in Edmonton last week which followed the CFA annual convention.

The commodities named are wheat, oats, barley, corn for grain, cheese, butter, concentrated milk products, eggs and bacon hogs. The directors said all other farm commodities should be subject to price support as conditions make such aid desirable.

The directors approved the idea of a formula on which all price supports would be based under federal law. However, they oppose establishing support prices so high that they will be an incentive for production.

A CFA statement said:

"A range of from 65 to 85 per cent of the basic prices established from time to time by the formula for the key commodities listed would appear to leave the price support program with the maximum of flexibility consistent with minimum protection of the farmers' price."

The proposed formula for price supports would use the average of farm prices for the past 10 years to keep basic prices in line with current conditions.

The president of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture says Canadians would have a better opinion of farm price supports if they understood them.

H. H. Hannam said that the supports do not guarantee profits but merely minimum security for farmers, in somewhat the same way as minimum wages and unemployment insurance benefit wage earners.

Hannam criticized federal cabinet ministers, other than agricultural minister James Gardiner, for not telling the people that price supports are good government policy meant to safeguard and strengthen the base of the whole economy.

Said Hannam: "If the Canadian people could understand that farm price supports are designated primarily to prevent farm prices from collapsing to distress levels, I am confident the attitude of the public mind would change to one of sympathy and acquiescence, if not of positive support."

The farm leader said customs tariffs in the industrial field are really a form of price supports, and although the cost to Canadians is new price supports.

The net income of United States Steel for the first nine months of 1954 was $1.11 a share less than in the similar period of last year. General Motors reported earnings for this year's three quarters $1.50 a share higher, due largely to lower taxes.

Says More Justice In Cities: May Increase District Court Jurisdiction

CALGARY (BUP)—The Alberta Government may increase the jurisdiction of District Court judges to give rural areas better administration of civil court justice.

Attorney-General Lucien Maynard said in Calgary that the move is under consideration. He was speaking to the annual meeting of the Alberta Law Society.

Chief Judge J. H. Sissons of Lethbridge supported such a move. He suggested that the power of district judges be increased to that of the Supreme Court when they are sitting at points outside Calgary and Edmonton.

Points between those two cities, said the jurist, are not "getting the same judicial justice those two are getting. I want to be able to give better service to the lawyers and the public I have been appointed to serve."

Judge Sissons said that a district court judge was sitting in Lethbridge, Medicine Hat and Fort Macleod every week and at Brooks every month. But a Supreme Court judge, he said, never sat at Brooks.

"When I go to Brooks I want to clean up everything before me," said the judge. I don't want to have to send those men to Calgary to have chamber matters heard."

However, he said that while district judges want to give more service, they are not asking for more money. He said legal knowledge was a must for a judge, but an even greater qualification was a willingness to work. He said a mistake in law by a district court judge could be easily remedied, but it was more difficult if the judge refused to face and accept

"facts".

Earlier, S. B. Smith, of Edmonton, said a judge in chambers was often so busy it was almost impossible to get a decent period of time set aside for the hearing of complicated legal matters. He said a judge often had to give "off-hand" decisions because he would be buried in reserved judgments if he did otherwise.

Smith pointed out that the province once had masters of chambers who could relieve trial judges of some of the load.

E. J. McCormick, of Calgary, said Alberta is extremely fortunate in the calibre of her district court judges. But, he said, the difficulty is to get adequate salaries for them.

The problem exists elsewhere, too, and one county court judge in another province had to run a lumber mill on the side to make a living, he said.

Factory profits rose 13 per cent during second quarter.

"Help, Police!"

EDMONTON (BUP) — Police rushed to answer holdup alarms at four different Edmonton banks Wednesday and found all the alarms were false.

Three alarms rang at the same time at 9:55 a.m. and another came in at 11:05 a.m.

Police said all the alarms were set off accidentally mostly through carelessness. A stack of money was placed on the alarm button in one case, a clerk accidentally pushed a button in another, and a janitor was responsible in another.
